Your preventive care benefits

Preventive care and early detection are important for your long-term health. But preventive care is more than just an annual check-up. There are lots of services available, and you may not be aware of all the tests and screenings you may need. This brochure lists all the preventive services that we cover at 100%, who should seek them and when.

FAQS

Am I eligible for these preventive services?

Most people enrolled on an active Regence policy have 100% coverage for preventive services. You may not be eligible if you're on a grandfathered policy or retiree-only plan. Call Customer Service at the phone number on the back of your member ID card or sign in and use the Live Chat feature on regence.com to learn more about your preventive care benefits.

How does Regence decide which preventive services to cover?

We support the federal government's mandate to cover a wide range of preventive services at 100%. Our benefits follow recommendations from three government agencies to determine which services we cover.¹ These recommendations change regularly to reflect scientific and medical advances and research. When the recommendations change, we adopt them within one year of their publication.

Visit healthcare.gov for more information, including recommended child and adolescent immunization schedules.

How much will I pay?

You pay nothing for the services listed (you won't owe any deductible, coinsurance or copay) when you see preferred (Category 1), participating (Category 2) or in-network providers. You may have to pay the deductible and/or coinsurance if you see non-participating (Category 3) or out-of-network providers.

Also, if your doctor provides preventive services that are outside the government guidelines, you may have an out-of-pocket expense.

What should I know before I make a preventive care appointment?

It's always a good idea to check with Customer Service about your benefits before going to the doctor because:

- We may add new benefits or change existing ones as a result of changing recommendations.
- Your benefits may have limits (such as age ranges or the number of services per year).
- Some services require pre-authorization and must meet guidelines for medical necessity.

1. These scientifically supported guidelines are created by the United States Preventive Services Task Force (USPSTF), Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), and Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA).
